Sexual Abuse Prevention Books

Books to Read to Kids

1. For ages 3 to 10 years:
   'NoNo the little seal: the gentle story of a little seal who learns to stay safe, say 'No', and tell'
   by Sherri Patterson and Judith Feldman Encourages children to talk about their worries through the story of NoNo. When his uncle touches him inappropriately and tells him to keep it a secret, NoNo struggles with whether it is wrong to tell and who he can talk to. Includes a guide for parents and a CD of the story with songs.

2. For ages 3 to 7 years
   The right touch: a read-aloud story to help prevent child sexual abuse
   by Sandy Kleven
   Jimmy’s mum explains the difference between good touches and touches that are uncomfortable, secret or forced. She tells him how to resist inappropriate touching and explains that abuse is not a child’s fault.
   Provides advice on what to do if a child tells you about an abusive situation.

3. For ages 5 to 10 years:
   'I said no!: a kid-to-kid guide to keeping private parts private'
   by Zach King and Kimberly King Explains what private body parts are, good and bad touching, scenarios of what someone may say, what to do if you feel uncomfortable, who trusted adults are and what to do if no one listens or believes you.
   Includes advice on reading the book with children.

4. For ages 1 to 5 years:
   'Some parts are not for sharing'
   by Julie Le Frederico Friendly fish and underwater scenes are used to give a simple message about private body parts and safe touch.

5. For ages 2 to 8 years:
   'It’s my body: a book to teach young children how to resist uncomfortable touch'
   by Lory Freeman
   Gives examples of different types of touches to help children to recognize and resist uncomfortable touch.
   Covers touches that are: nice, acceptable but unwelcome, unpleasant but necessary (for example from doctors) and unacceptable. Stress a child’s right to protect their body.

6. For School-Aged Children: The Trouble with Secrets. By Karen Johnson. Defines secrets and surprises and give examples of each. Encourages children not to keep secrets about touch even if someone tells you to.
   Encourages children to say “No” and tell the person that you will tell someone else about inappropriate touch.
